

Urbanic II & Urbanic Producer Pack

Sound & Recording, 05-2009
www.soundandrecording.de

After Urbanic follow the sequels Urbanic II and Urbanic Producer Pack.

(...)

Urbanic II is based, just as its predecessor, on Construction-Kits. But in this case we have 4 Kits for each „song“: intro, main, outro and variation - and they all come with single lines of every instrument.

(...)

Although the arrangements are all fixed which blocks the creativity, the material is top notch and the concept does its job as good as it gets - supported by a fat and real sound. In this category Ueberschall is in most of the time ahead of its competitors: It sounds complete and professionally produced. Wide, epic and melodic sounds, not the dark and aggressive HipHop from the streets.

Urbanic Producer Pack however is something completely different. Instead of Construction Kits you find a huge collection of loops- and singlesounds suiting every HipHop-Sound and sorted like a menu (percussion, keyboards, bass, acoustic-loops, etc.). In this way you can create your own Kits or open up multiple Elastiks to combine them.

(...)

[The drumsamples] are throughout the whole library of a good use and shine because of their loudness and designed mixing. If you like this style you'll find perfect tools at Ueberschall.

www.ueberschall.com

